The Christmas Story Told In Newspaper Style Today

It is a pleasure this week to call attention to readers of the ANTIOCH NEWS and the LAKE REGION NEWS the full page news report on the first page of the second section about the birth of Christ which we celebrate Dec. 25.

The "news" stories were written by Protestant and Catholic clergymen of Antioch and vicinity at the request of the editors. The items are being run with only minor editing from what these men wrote.

The idea for the page was taken from a newspaper trade paper which showed how another weekly paper used the same idea in reporting the news of Christ's death on the cross and His resurrection.

It was the aim of the publishers of the ANTIOCH NEWS and the LAKE REGION NEWS to publish the "news" of Christ's birth as it might have been presented in the year 1 A.D., and the day of His birth. We believe it is the first time a newspaper in this area as well as in Antioch has published the Christmas story in this way.

Post Office Business Declines; Many Shoppers Roaming Streets

POST OFFICE

"Business" at the Antioch post office dropped off considerably this week from a peak of 30,000 cancellations reached early last week, but shoppers still roaming the business district indicated "business" there is still good.

Postmaster Roy Kufalk said that the 30,000 cancellations reported last week Tuesday were tops. Since then these have dropped off to 28,000, 26,000 and 23,000 on down to about 7,000 for this week Tuesday.

This would indicate Antioch and vicinity people, at least, had taken the post office's request of "mail early" literally.

Kufalk said last week the local postoffice then had set a record for Christmas stamp sales and cancellations.

However, the 30,000 or less cancellations were only from letters as packages are cancelled by hand. The letters go through a machine too small to handle most packages. No estimate could be made on the number of packages handled by the local post office.

The playing of Christmas music over the loudspeaker system in downtown Antioch during the Christmas shopping period plus decorations in windows, the community tree near the Rescue Squad building, and other decorations gave the community a real Christmas atmosphere.

The home decorations committee of the local Moose lodge will start its judging of Christmas decorations at 7 p. m. Sunday, Dec. 27. Three prizes will be awarded.

These awards can be seen in the window of the Antioch News office. Mrs. Catherine Avery of the Moose, and John Rohde of the Men of the Moose, are co-chairmen of the civic affairs committee which is sponsoring the contest.

A ride around the village any evening will see a wide variety and large number of home Christmas displays. And in addition there are many in the rural areas nearby.

Fire Damages House in LV

LAKE VILLA—Damage estimated at $2,250 was done to the Richard A. Motley residence in the Petite Lake Park subdivision of Lake Villa Sunday when fire of undetermined origin damaged a bedroom.

Firemen from Lake Villa said that several .32 caliber shells lying on the bedroom floor exploded during the blaze.

Mrs. Motley discovered the fire when she smelled smoke and found the bedroom on the south side of the residence filled with smoke. The fire burned up a wall and ceiling and across the floor to a bed. There was some smoke damage throughout the house.

Board Expects 60 More Pupils Next September

What to do with the expected increase in enrollments at Antioch Township high school in the coming years and especially starting in September 1960 continues to be the principal topic of the high school board these days.

The board at its meeting last Wednesday evening approved a modified shift program with the idea of making use of the school auditorium as a study hall and converting room 4 into a combination room.

Room 4 under the plan would become a combination choral and lecture classroom.

The modified shift program would mean eight periods a day of classes instead of the present seven with the first one starting at 7:50 a.m. and the last one ending at 3:45 p.m.

These eight periods would include four lunch periods as now.

BY DEVELOPING an eight period schedule the high school office would have one more period of 22 classrooms for scheduling purposes, (continued on page 6)

Mary Golden Dies at 78

Mrs. Mary Golden, 78, a resident of Antioch for 42 years, died at her home at 998 Victoria St. last Friday after a brief illness due to a heart ailment.

She was born Feb. 7, 1881 in County Mayo, Ireland, coming to the United States 53 years ago to settle in Chicago. She moved to Antioch 42 years ago.

Her husband, Michael, preceded her in death in 1945.

She was a member of St. Peter's church in Antioch and of the Altar and Rosary society.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Margaret Webb; two brothers, John McDonough of Antioch and Pat of County Mayo, Ireland; three sisters, Ann Gallagher and Bessie Mastyn of Chicago and Alice Harvey of Antioch; a granddaughter, Mary Rose Griffin of Antioch, and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at 10 a. m. Monday at St. Peter's church with Strang funeral home in charge. Burial was in All Saints cemetery, DesPlaines.

C of C Plans Ladies Night

The annual ladies' night and guest night of the Antioch chamber of commerce will be held the evening of Saturday, Jan. 9, at Smart's Country House, it was announced this week.

Vic Perry of television fame will be a highlight of the program.

Dancing to Art Smejkal's band will conclude the evening.

Those wishing to make reservations are asked to contact Bette Meyer or Bob Calloway.

Ex-Resident Faces Check Theft Charge

WAUKEGAN—A former resident of Antioch, Clark V. Harrison, 47, of 928 Westmoreland Ave., Waukegan, was arrested last Friday in Waukegan and charged with passing 200 stolen checks over the past two years.

Waukegan police said they believed Harrison took the checks from the U.S. mails and passed some of them at Waukegan business houses. He was turned over to special agent Joseph Paolella, Jr. of the U. S. secret service.

School Board, Architects Meet on Building Delayed

A meeting between the Antioch high school board, a school architect and state department of public instruction officials has been postponed to a date early next year, possibly in February.

It has been hoped that these people would get together Dec. 30, but a conflict of events together with it being near a holiday or two, changed the date.

A meeting of the school board-teacher salary committee has been called for 8 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 6, the high school board was told at its monthly meeting last week.

E. R. Prossie reported briefly on what the joint committee discussed and what progress had been made. The board will consider the salary matter at its Jan. 20 session.

It was voted to hire one person to do adult clerical work so some of the high school teachers with heavy loads can have more time to teach.

This person would be paid $1.50 an hour and work two days a week. If the plan works, another adult may be hired.

He or she would operate duplicators, copy data on forms and records, check tests, workbooks and papers, type library sheets and cataloguing cards, administer some tests and type materials and tests.

Prior to the opening of school last September, two clerks were employed by the board to help the school librarian. These were paid $1.50 an hour.

The board also voted to hire a woman to work a 5-day week at the school at $1.50 an hour for the school year as a matron. Her hours would be from 12 noon to 5 p.m.

An advertisement seeking such a woman is in this week's issue of the Antioch News.

High school buses will continue to pick up children living less than 1½ miles from school "under certain conditions," the board decided.

But the board stressed that it could order such bus stops ended at any time.

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Baldwin of Hampshire, Ill., were Sunday guests of Mrs. Frank Runyard of Channel Lake.

Mrs. Ben Burke of Antioch left Monday for a few weeks visit with friends in Mexico.

R. Guy Hughes Dies at Home

Private funeral services were conducted last Saturday afternoon for R. Guy Hughes, 80, of Antioch who died last Thursday evening at his home at Savage and Pollock roads in Antioch Township after a brief illness.

Strang funeral home of Antioch was in charge of arrangements with Rev. L. H. Messersmith of the Millburn Congregational church officiating. Burial was in the Millburn cemetery.

Friends called at the funeral home from 3 p.m. Friday to noon Saturday.

Mr. Hughes was born on March 1, 1879 in Antioch Township and had lived in that township all his life. His parents, John H. and Liza Jane (Strang) Hughes also were born and lived in the county all their lives. He married Gussie Thain on Oct. 30, 1906 at Millburn. He was a member of the Millburn Congregational church and the Lake County Farm Bureau. He had been a farmer by occupation.

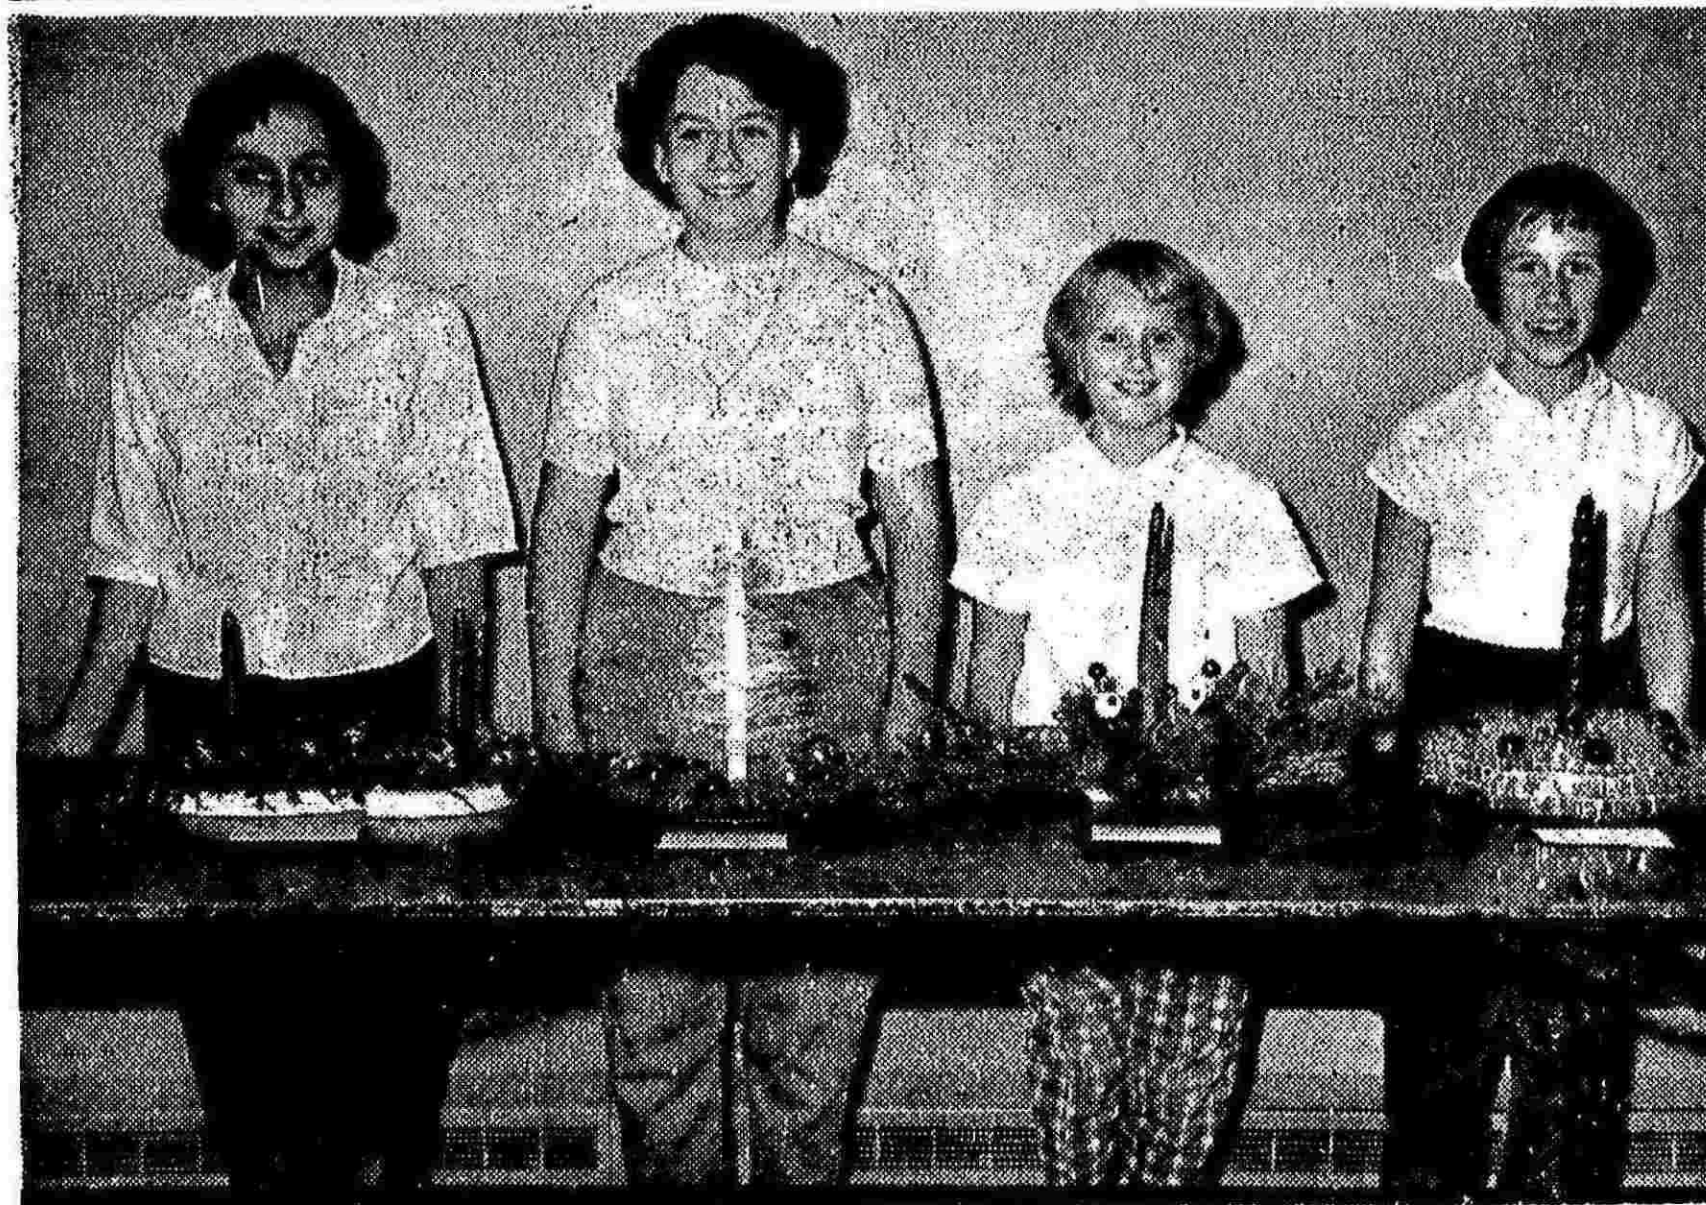

Surviving are his widow, Gussie; two sons, Gordon T. of Antioch and Oliver R. of Antioch; two daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Stern of Zion and Mrs. Gertrude Paterson of Libertyville; a brother, Carl D. Hughes of Lake Villa; 11 grandchildren and nine great grandchildren.

Homemakers Meet

Twenty members of the Antioch Homemakers met last Thursday, Dec. 17, for a potluck luncheon and Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Clarence Spiering.

Gifts were exchanged and games were played.

Their next meeting will be on Jan. 27, at the home of Mrs. Frank Hennig, Channel Lake.

CENTERPIECE CONTEST. These girls were winners in the annual Christmas centerpiece contest of Girl Scout troop 31 in Antioch held last Wednesday evening in the Antioch grade school cafeteria. Some 30 such centerpieces were made by as many girls for the contest. The judges said afterward it was "very difficult" to decide which should win prizes. Girls standing in back of the table are, from left, Carol Gillio, first prize; Susan Lindblad, second; Kathy Gaston, third; Margo Nader, honorable mention. Judges were Mrs. Homer White, Mrs. Ray Bruhn, Mrs. Robert Jonas, Mrs. Robert Gaston, Miss Joyce Baber. (Antioch News photo)

DEAR READER News Editorials

How 'Silent Night' Had Its Origin

As certain as Christmas are inquiries about the origin of the favorite Christmas carol, "Silent Night, Holy Night." This year the Austrian information service anticipates them with its own story: "Silent Night" was written December 24, 1818, by Joseph Mohr, a priest of the little church of Saint Nicola in the village of Oberndorf, near Salzburg, to music composed by the church's assistant organist, Franz Gruber.

In Austria, Christmas eve is the time when the Christmas tree is lit for the first time and presents are given and received. The gifts are supposed to come from Knecht Ruprecht or from the Christ Child (Christkind). Knecht Ruprecht has a long white beard, wears heavy boots, drives a sleigh drawn by reindeer, and very much resembles Santa Claus, except that his name is different.

The Christmas tree is beautifully decorated with multicolored glass baubles, various sweets and candies wrapped in tinfoil, gilded nuts, and either a little angel or a large shining glass ball is fixed to the top. It is lit by candles, electric lighting being practically never used for that purpose.

The presents are usually not wrapped and a separate section, either underneath the tree or on tables, is reserved for each person receiving a present. After the presents have been inspected and a few Christmas carols have been sung, everybody sits down to Christmas dinner, the traditional main dish being carp. At midnight it is customary, especially in the country, to attend Christmas mass.

It is a custom in Austria that all shops are open on the last two Sundays before Christmas, so that the working population may do their shopping at leisure. The last Sunday before Christmas is called "Golden Sunday" (Goldener Sonntag) and the last but one is "Silver Sunday" (Silberner Sonntag).

Into this tradition, in a land of Christmas snow, glittering lakes and friendly mountains, "Silent Night" was born to become the special Christmas favorite wherever carols are sung.

CHRISTMAS

Christmas! Depending upon your age, it thunders upon you with a gallop of time or creeps apace, minute by slow minute. Then, suddenly, it is the day, and by far the greatest day of the calendar.

Christmas is a rushing, roaring, surging in the streets. It is a bewilderment of chilled, pinch-nosed Santas clanging their off-key bells. It is frantic search, weary feet, tired clerks, and an elevator closing in your face. It is bundles, boxes, paper, string, bags, envelopes, packages in a wild deluge.

It is five-and-dime glitter, fake candy canes, fire-proofed garlands. It is a papier-mache child in a papier-mache in a chromium-framed, neon-lit window. It is the old, old songs worn to meaninglessness by an incessant electronic repetition.

It is a high school dance and mistletoe and a stolen kiss. It is an electric train clattering off the rails, a new doll to hold and love. It is a tree too tall to measure, a brilliant shimmer of colored light as bright as the ancient star. It is a mystery and an awesome bearded man flying thru the night.

Christmas is aunts and uncles and cousins and my-it's-nice-to-have-the-family-together. It is making cookies and cracking walnuts. It is lighted windows and warmth and a wreath on the door. For some it is a cold wind swirling down a dark street and a loneliness too poignant to bear.

Christmas is the silent snow settling on the roofs of the world. It is a bright fire and the clear, sweet call of a carol on the frozen air. It is homemade costumes and a pageant of three wandering kings. It is old Scrooge reborn. It is a vast hush in the midnight heaven and the majestic swell of a church chorus.

Christmas is a dream, and the dream is glory to God in the highest and on earth peace, good will toward men. The dream that began with a child shines on this day as bright as a child's dream. It is the dream that comes true once each year for a day. And that day is Christmas.

Correct Records Are Important To All People

Keeping correct records will assure you all the benefits you and your employees have earned.

Benefits for an employer and his employees at retirement, death, or permanent and total disability, are based on the reports the employer files with Internal Revenue of his own net profit and the earnings of his employees.

Accurate and complete records are necessary to make the proper reports on your employees as well as to determine the employer's own true net profit.

The employer is responsible for filing reports on his employees which should contain the full name, social security account number, and the amount paid to each employee.

It is also pointed out that many self-employed persons have not been properly reporting their net profit.

Coverage of the self-employed is not optional—it is required by law and is necessary in order to get social security credit for his earnings.

If he failed to file the report on his net profit and pay the self-employment tax for prior years, it may not be too late.

He can file reports for 1956 and later years and pay the self-employment social security tax to the director of Internal Revenue this year. Social security credits cannot be given now for years prior to 1956.

STREET DECORATIONS for Antioch at Christmas time are shown in this photo taken late last week. These "flower pots" now hold Christmas poinsettias for the holiday season. However, these "flowers" can be changed for each season, such as lilacs at Easter, roses in the summer and the like. The pots light up at night and give off a reddish tinge due to the color of the artificial flowers in them. The flowers and their holders were purchased by the Antioch chamber of commerce as a boost to the village and its business district. Sixteen poles have two flower pots each. (Antioch News photo)

Here Are Suggestions For Wives Helping Husband Shop for Suits

A retailer of men's wear charges that women neither know nor read about men's changing fashions, yet more than 50 per cent of them accompany their men suit shopping.

Marjorie Sohn, clothing specialist at the University of Illinois, describes the three basic styles in men's suits and tells how to help a man select the style most flattering to his physique.

The most familiar suit style is called natural. The shoulders are normal width and slightly built up. The rather long jacket hangs straight and easy. It has a squareish cut front and three buttons fairly close together. Flap pockets are featured on the jacket.

Although all lapels are now narrower, natural style lapels are wider than those in other styles. Trousers have one or two pleats and a moderate rise.

The Ivy League style has little or no shoulder padding. The coat lapels are medium to narrow. The jacket, with flap pockets and vented back, hangs straight.

IT IS slightly shorter than the natural style, and the buttons are farther apart. Trousers are tapered, usually pleatless and have a low rise.

The newest style, the Continental, has more shape at the waist and squared-off shoulders. The jacket is shorter than both Ivy and Natural styles.

It has a slightly rounded cutaway front and two buttons, although modified Continentals with three buttons are also made. Side vents and welt pockets, sometimes slanted, are other identification points. Lapels are narrow and peaked.

The trim trousers have a high rise, single reverse pleats and are generally cuffless.

Miss Sohn gives these suitable style tips for general figure types:

For the short, chunky man: The jacket should have slightly padded shoulders, not the sloping Ivy style. It should be long enough to cover the seat of the trousers. A short jacket cuts the figure in half, and a long jacket makes it look squatty.

The fashionable narrow lapels and slanted flap or welt pockets on the hipline are good.

Tapered trousers with single pleats and no cuffs, such as the Continental, create a longer, trimmer line.

FOR THE SHORT, thin man: The narrow, peaked lapel jacket and well-padded, high shoulder lines give the illusion of greater height. The jacket should be just long enough to cover the trousers' seat.

Trousers with narrow legs, narrow waist band and no cuffs also seem to add height.

For the tall, slim: Natural is a good style for the bean-pole type. He could wear the Ivy style with padded shoulders.

Feb. 15 Deadline For Plate Display

SPRINGFIELD—Monday, Feb. 15, is the deadline for displaying 1960 motor vehicle license plates, Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter announced.

A possibility that the steel strike might require a later deadline did not materialize, and for the fifth consecutive year the mid-February date for displaying current plates will be observed.

Secretary Carpenter emphasized that Feb. 15 is not an application deadline but the date by which motorists must display 1960 plates on their cars, or be subject to arrest.

But the narrow lapels, slim, cuffless trousers and shorter jacket of the continental make him appear even taller and slimmer.

For the tall, heavy: Longer length jackets with natural style shoulders and lapels are good. Flap and patch pockets placed near the hipbone emphasize height.

Trousers with one or two pleats are more flattering than those with no pleats.

For the average physique: Any style is satisfactory. He may wear wide or narrow shoulders with high or low shoulder padding and lapels of any width.

He can wear any style trouser that suits his fancy.

DEAR EDITOR Your Letters

Letters on your opinions are welcomed to this space each week. Equal weight is given on this page to your ideas and the paper's ideas on subject matter. Letters must be signed with complete names and addresses but will be withheld upon request. No letter should exceed, 300 words.

DEAR ANTIOCH NEWS:
(Cemetery) Were they fair, are they fair? I have been turning this over in my mind for a long time. Antioch doesn't care for the living, why should it care for the dead? They want to educate the children to the hill, when they leave high school there isn't any place in Antioch to find work, unless you want to work for $1.00 an hour. Where are the young men I went to school with? Not in Antioch, they are spread all over the globe—why? Not because they wanted to leave their homes and parents.... Just no work.

Spring Grove is building a modern factory to give 1400 people work. What has Antioch to offer? Nothing. The only way to live in Antioch is go into business and take the bread away from someone else. Dog eat Dog.

I hope this letter shocks you. Maybe the people of Antioch and surrounding it will give the children we love and work for, a decent town to work and bring up their children.

Antioch needs modern factories. They will work near Antioch and spend their money in Antioch where it belongs. Then they will also get the new schools and whatever they need. If people can work to pay for them, they aren't selfish. Do what you will with this letter, but at least you'll know how one person feels.

Respectfully,
Mrs. Elsie Edmann

Production Records Of Local Cow Listed

BRATTLEBORO, Vt. — A cow

from Ravenglen Farm near Antioch, Ill., has had an outstanding production record for registered Holstein cows, the Holstein-Friesian association of America announced this week.

The cow is Vijom Mechthilde Segis no. 3293741 which produced 19,422 pounds of milk and 802 pounds of butterfat in 365 days on twice daily milking as an 8-year-old.

The University of Illinois working in close cooperation with the national Holstein organization, supervised the weighing and testing of production as a part of its herd improvement registry program.

This official testing program provides continuing lactation and lifetime production records on every cow participating registered Holstein herds.

The old fashioned idea of the hope chest filled with trousseau treasures is being revived by young, unmarried girls. With the addition of a cotton-covered and cotton-filled cushion, the cedar chest can do double duty as a window seat in a teen-ager's room.

Two-piece lounging sets in pre-teen sizes are plentiful this winter. Slim pants in corduroy, velveteen, and cotton knit are topped by sissy cotton blouses and pixie-styled overblouses.

Channel Lake PTA Has Fair, Plans Census

By Mrs. Pearl Kapell
Channel Lake Correspondent
CHANNEL LAKE—The P.T.A. meeting on Dec. 16 at the Channel Lake school was a "Christmas Fair." Ornaments and fudge made by several of the ladies was sold to those present.

The table centerpiece, a beautiful gingerbread house donated by Beverly Roberts, was auctioned off to the highest bidder.

The various schoolrooms had been decorated for Christmas and they were open for public inspection.

The school board has requested members of the P.T.A. to take a census of the school district, to gather information to guide members in planning an addition to the school. Volunteers were called for and several women agreed to conduct the survey.

Mrs. Amendola's room again won the prize for having the most parents present.

Christmas songs had been recorded by the school children, and were played. Everyone then joined in singing Christmas songs which were recorded on the school's new

Savings Bond Buying For November Totaled

Lake county residents purchased a total of $317,659 in series E and H United States savings bonds in the month of November, according to Philip L. Speidel of Lake Forest and James E. Brown of Waukegan, general county co-chairmen of the savings bonds committee.

Sales of both series in Illinois totaled $26,474,771, according to T. Merle Paul, state director of the U. S. savings bonds division. This is 5.9 per cent below the figure for the same month last year.

tape recorder and will be played for the children.

The general comment was that the singing of the children was considerably superior to that of the parents.

Next month's meeting will be a panel discussion of problems with children. The panel will be composed of a minister, a lawyer, and an administrator.

Anyone who has any questions they would like to hear discussed, call Mrs. Wittleder at Antioch 551-W.

Our deepest sympathies to the Elmer Meierdick family in the loss of their son.

The Cub pack meeting scheduled for Dec. 19 was postponed. Incidentally, Cubmaster John Eckert issues a desperate appeal for den mothers.

There are a number of boys waiting to join Cub Scouts, and no room for them. The present den mothers' groups are already overcrowded.

Harry Warner of Sunside subdivision celebrated his 95th birthday quietly in his home on Saturday, Dec. 19.

He was visited during the day by his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Warner.

Warner has had a home in Sunside for 36 years, and served for 22 years as president of Sunside association.

The Christmas skating party scheduled by the Community club for December 19 was postponed indefinitely because ice on the lake is not safe.

Those sparrows that are troublesome on many poultry plants not only eat a lot of feed, but they can be instrumental in carrying diseases and parasites. Sparrows should be trapped or poisoned if they cannot be screened out.

Pick Martell State Winner

PADDOCK LAKE, Wis.—Larry Martell, a senior at Central high school was adjudged a winner of the state garden program of the National 4-H clubs. He is one of eight so picked by the national group.

As a Wisconsin state winner, Larry was awarded an expense-paid trip to the 4-H congress in Chicago by Allis-Chalmers, which sponsored this project.

As one of the eight national winners, he has been awarded a $400 scholarship by the company.

Carl F. Meyer, sales promotion department of the company says: "Larry has made a very fine impression on everyone with whom he came in contact. It certainly was a pleasure having him included among our national winners."

Grass Lake Cub Scouts Aid Needy, Enjoy Holiday Party, Given Awards

GRASS LAKE—Cub Scouts of Grass Lake Pack 80 held their December pack meeting and Christmas party at the Grass Lake school on Dec. 17.

As their Christmas good turn, the Cub Scouts brought canned goods and staples to prepare a basket for some needy family in the area.

There were not many awards this month. The boys have been too busy with holiday preparations. Following are the awards given out by Cubmaster Earl Beese:

Richard Hart, Silver Arrow under Bear; Anthony Lomma, Gold and Silver arrow under Wolf; David Cogdill, certificate of training, den chief's conference.

Edward Jennrich won the silver dollar and collected it as his parents were in attendance.

In the handicraft competition, first place went to Bobby Beese for his model of a clubhouse which he and some friends have built. Second place was awarded to Donny Davidson for a wooden bookshelf he constructed.

Mrs. Don Forbes entertained the boys by reading them a Christmas story.

Then everyone joined in singing carols, accompanied by Mrs. Ingrid Hawkins at the piano. Mrs. Barbara Beese led the singing.

This was a practice for the planned caroling party on Dec. 23. Cubs and parents will pile into hayracks to make the rounds singing carols.

Afterwards, all are invited to the home of Mrs. Sylvia Rozek for refreshments.

As the group started on the last song, "Jingle Bells," another bell was heard heralding the entrance of Santa Claus. He gave out candy and apples to all the children.

After Santa's departure, the meeting was closed with the singing of "Taps." Then refreshments were served.

Modified Shift

Assistant principal Warren Polley and Dittman outlined the proposed modified shift before it was approved by the board.

It was pointed out by them that ATHS expects 60 more children in the 1960-61 school year than were registered this school year or 760 boys and girls compared to the present 700.

Then the 1961-62 school year, according to projected enrollment figures, would have 880 pupils or 120 more than for the 1960-61 school year.

SEVERAL WAYS of caring for the 1960-61 influx were discussed before the plan outlined above was approved.

ONE WAS to use the girl's gym for a study hall and divide the boys' gym so the girls could use

Class Schedule

The modified shift as adopted at a meeting of the Antioch Township high school board recently would work this way:

7:50 to 8:45 a. m. First period.
8:50 to 9:45 a. m. Second period.
9:50 to 10:45 a. m. Third period.
10:50 to 11:45 a. m. Fourth period.
10:50 to 11:15 a. m. 4-A Lunch period.
11:20 to 11:45 a. m. 4-B Lunch period.
11:50 to 12:45 Fifth period.
11:50 to 12:15 5-A Lunch period.
12:20 to 12:45 p. m. 5-B Lunch period.
12:50 to 1:45 p. m. Sixth period.
1:50 to 2:45 p. m. Seventh period.
2:50 to 3:45 p. m. Eighth period.

half for physical education classes. Two teaching stations would have been needed, a "divider" would be necessary, shower problems would be coming up, floor space for boys would be greatly reduced and heating and lighting problems would appear.

A second proposal would have used the girls' gym as a study hall and erect a building about 45 x 75 feet to the south of the present high school building.

Heat and ventilation problems were seen in addition to the cost of the new structure. However, the new one might have been used later for a bus building and if necessary it might have been built so it could be moved.

The third proposal was to use the school auditorium stage for a study hall or class space. School leaders believed the stage was not large enough to handle 150 to 200 students at one time.

The plan as adopted will help free the school cafeteria except when it was being used and also would free the present study hall of crowding.

Strange Story Told of a Light Seen in the Sky Near Bethlehem

(Editor's note: This dispatch came too late for inclusion in the Jerusalem News edition of this week's paper and so had to be used in the regular Antioch newspaper.)

(Runners carrying this dispatch said sandstorms and high winds had delayed their departure for Bethlehem and their arrival in this city.)

Today I talked with several persons who had a strange story to tell. It was the story of a bright light that had appeared in the sky over our own country.

Here is what a shepherd told me: "My friends and I were tending our flock about four miles east of Jerusalem. It was a clear night and the stars shone brightly.

"We looked up at the stars—so close we could almost touch them. The sky seemed strange tonight, not familiar as it should be. Soon we found the reason, for there above our heads was a new star!

"At first we thought it was a regular star but then its light increased until finally it outshone all other stars in the sky.

"As the night passed, the other stars slowly changed position, but this one seemed to hover motionless in the blackness of the night.

"Its presence made us feel strange and uncomfortable."

Here is what I learned from a camel driver who just arrived from Damascus:

"I have to keep my eyes on the stars if I am to know where I am going. I am very familiar with the stars and they are absolutely dependable.

"What I saw last night, however, bothers me because it doesn't fit in with what I know. Last night as we were on the trail (we don't ordinarily travel at night but we had to get to Jerusalem) I saw a new star!

"At first it seemed low on the western horizon, but as the hours passed and we were only a few miles from Jerusalem, it was almost overhead.

"Early in the evening it was quite pale, but by midnight, it was the most brilliant light in the heavens. Also it didn't act like a star—it stayed in one place all night!"

The shepherd and the camel driver could give no explanation of what they had seen. So far I have not been able to find anyone who can. The priests in the temple hadn't seen the star and they laughed at me.

None of the Roman officers in the palace were even interested. I finally succeeded in finding a forger, here on business, who told me that there were men in the East who could interpret the actions of the stars.

He said that these astrologers believe that any great event on earth is predicted by the stars.

I am going to see if such a person can be found.

New members will be initiated into the Moose lodge Wednesday evening at the regular meeting. The Antioch ritual team will perform the ceremony, for Lester Palmer, ritual chairman.

The monthly birthday dinner also will be held that night. Carl Schieser is dinner chairman.

The Antioch Moose lodge was host to 150 children at the annual Moose Christmas party last Sunday afternoon.

A movie was shown, followed by a treat of cookies, pop, ice cream and a Christmas stocking from Santa.

The Christmas home decorating committee of the Moose will start its judging program Sunday night at about 7 o'clock. Three prizes will be awarded.

This affair is sponsored by the civic affairs committee of the Moose. The chairmen are Mrs. Catherine Avery, Women of the Moose, and Jack Rohde, men of the Moose.

Angels, Angels Everywhere

DECORATE WITH PERT ANGELS who serve a double duty. They're delightfully gay and... their wings and skirt hide a purse size bottle of Thrushay hand lotion.

MAKE THEM WITH: A pingpong ball, enamel paint, brush, medium weight construction paper, glitter, Thrushay bottle, glue and pipe cleaners.

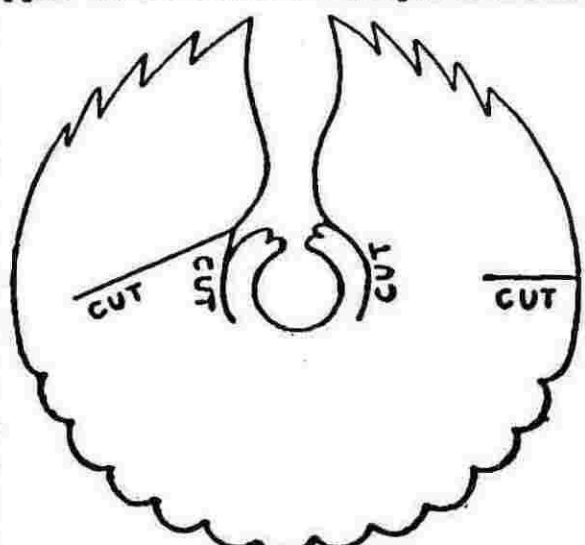

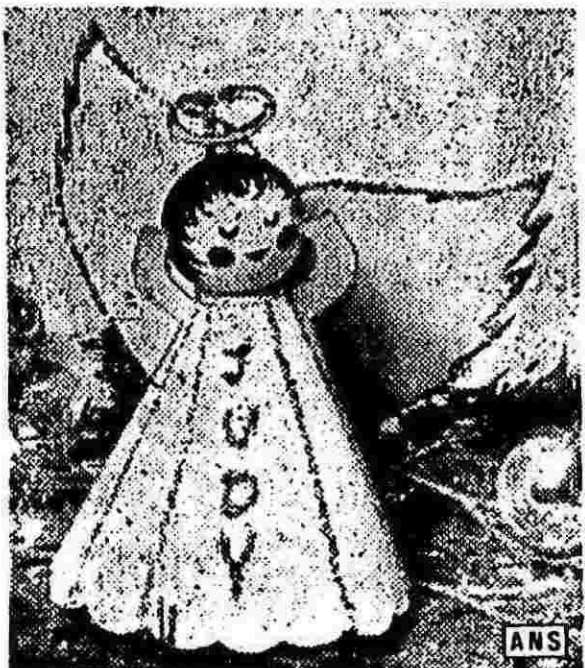

HERE'S HOW:

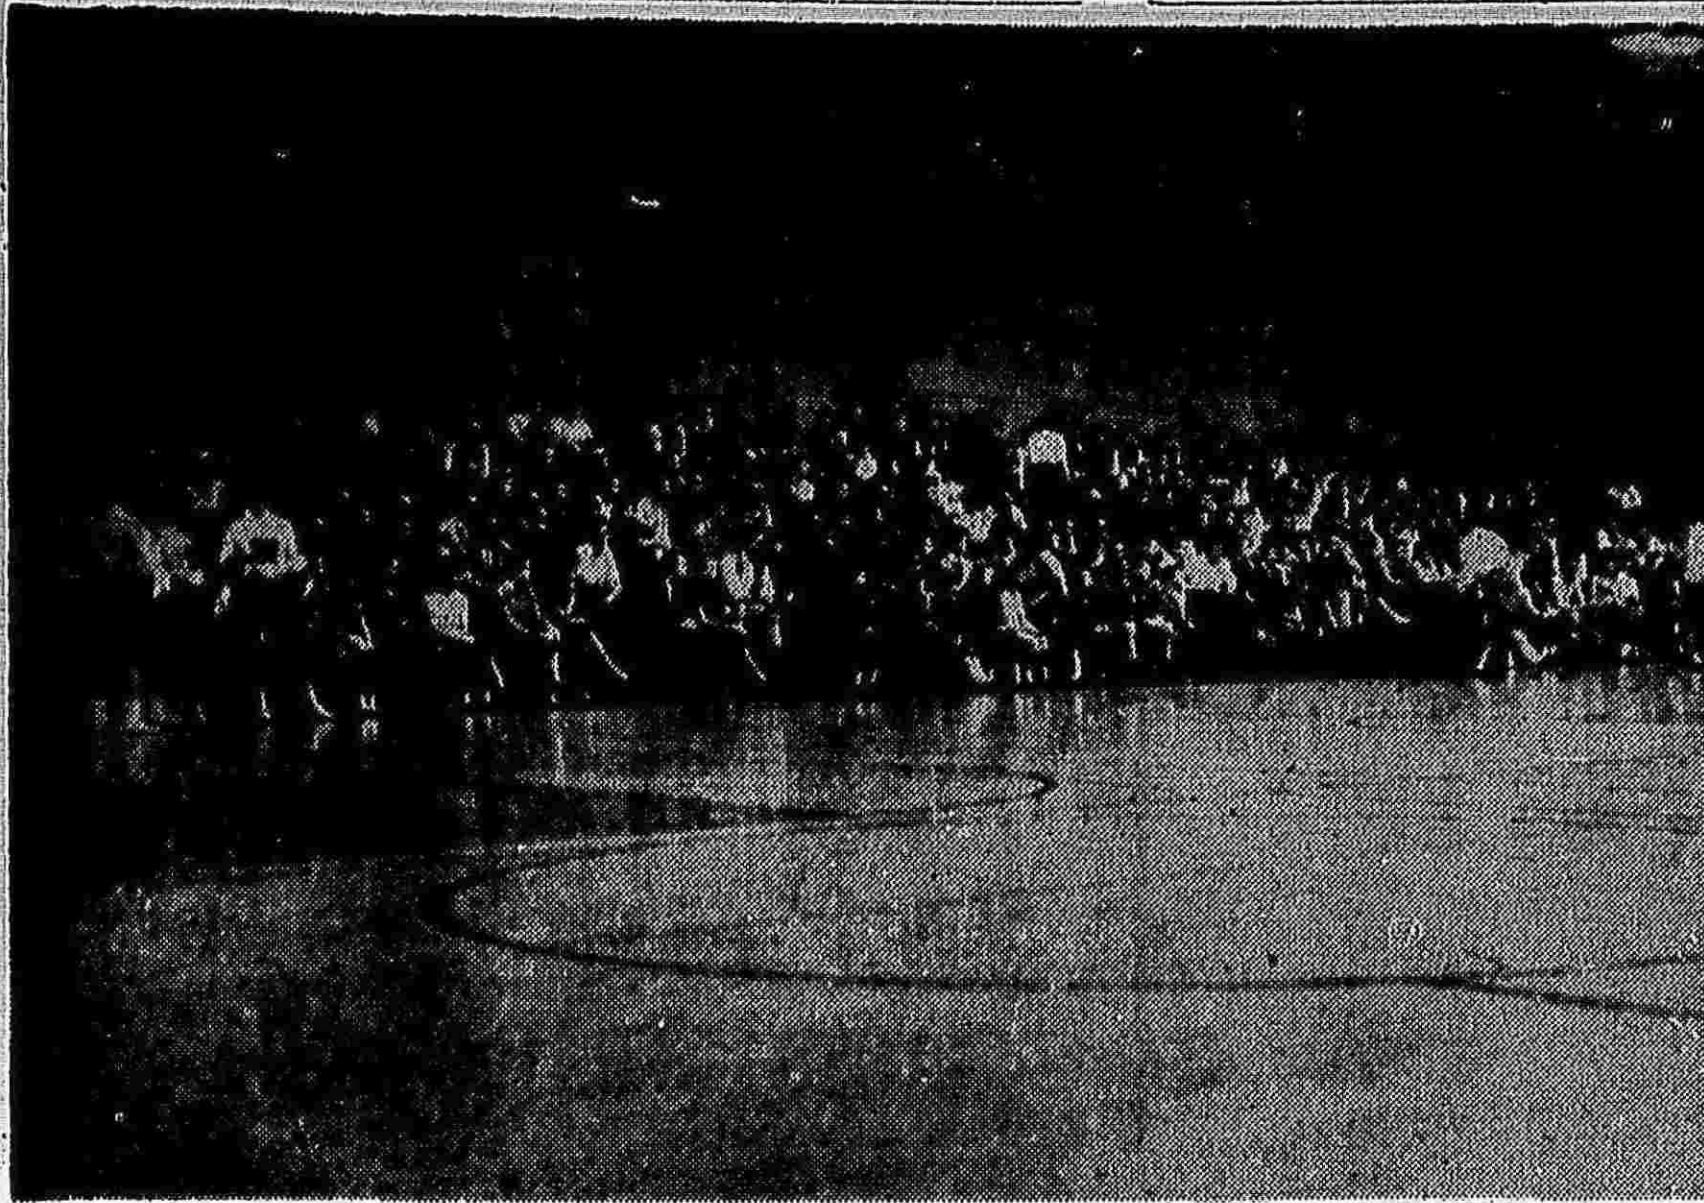

1. HEAD: Cut circle in pingpong ball using lotion bottle cap for size. Slip ball over capped bottle. Paint on simple features.

2. SKIRT AND WINGS: Cut circle of paper 7" in diameter. For neck, cut 1" circle from center. Cut from outer edge to center of circle (this is center back). For arms, start 1/4" down from neck circle at center back cut in from each side 1/4 way around circle. Make two slits for skirt closure; one, 1 1/2" down from center (underarm); another on opposite side 1" up from outer circle edge.

3. Draw design on skirt with tube of glue. Sprinkle on glitter, let dry and shake off excess. Scallop bottom, shape wings and hook skirt closures together. Bend arms up behind head. Place angel on back and decorate wings in same manner as skirt.

4. Drop dress over bottle cap. Put head on cap, add pipe cleaner halo twisted to shape and taped to back of head.

School Ends Till Jan. 4

School sessions ended in Antioch schools this week Tuesday afternoon for the Christmas-New Year's holiday vacation period.

A feature of the day Tuesday at the Antioch grade school was a Christmas party and visit from Santa Claus for the kindergarten children. Some 60 or more youngsters seated on the stage also presented a musical program.

Parents and brothers and sisters sat on the gym floor to watch and listen to the program. Santa passed out bags of goodies to the "good" kindergarten children there and not a child missed out.

High school classes ended at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday and those at the Antioch and the Oakland grade schools closed at various times beginning about 1:30.

Classes will resume in all three buildings at the usual time Monday morning, Jan. 4, 1960.

Some 728 tons of steel products are needed to drill a 10,000-foot deep oil well.

To remove ice cream from cotton fabrics: Sponge the spot with cool or lukewarm water to loosen cream and egg. Then wash in hot suds.

To all of our cherished friends we wish the happiest of Christmases! Greetings from

The Staff and Management of the Lakes Theater

We spell our greetings with many good wishes for your happiness and good health.

The Salem Hi music department performed on Wednesday afternoon Dec. 16, before the student body, and before a record attendance of adults in the evening.

Christmas music was presented in a most entertaining way.

Much credit goes to Mrs. Jane Palumbo for choral numbers and to Russell Broten for his brass choir. More than 400 guests enjoyed the lunch of Christmas cookies and coffee offered by the Community club.

The faculty and personnel Christmas party was held at Brass Ball Inn on Monday, Dec. 21 at 7 p.m. Dinner was served and there was an exchange of gifts.

Students and teachers will enjoy a Christmas vacation beginning Dec. 23. School will reopen on Monday, Jan. 4.

After the basketball game between Clinton and Salem high Friday night, there was a record "hop dance." Everyone was invited to help the sophomores with their project.

On Dec. 26, Miss Eileen Deetz will become the bride of Vaughn Sorenson. Both are members of the school faculty.

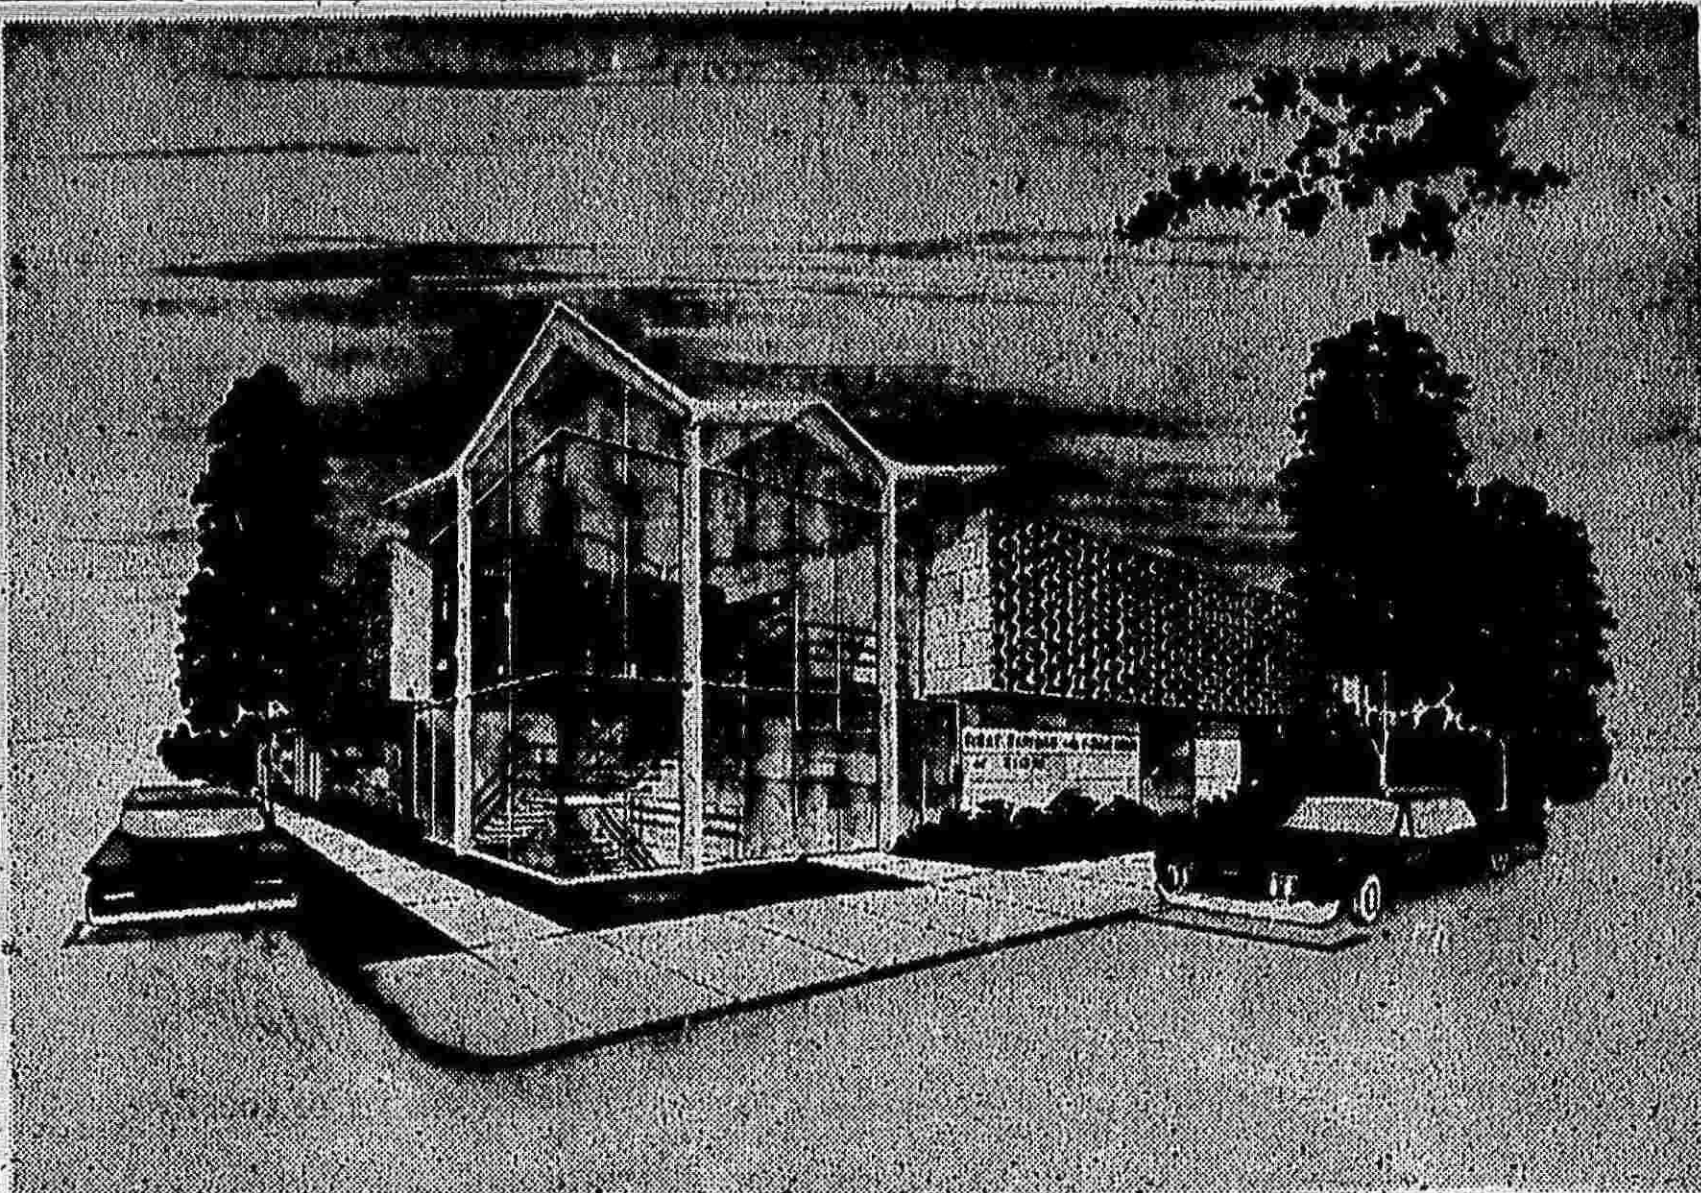

On Dec. 28, another marriage will take place. Roger Terry, coach, will take as his bride, Mrs. Mary Lou Thilleman, home ec. teacher.

May I take this opportunity of wishing the readers of this column a Merry Christmas and a Very Happy New Year.

"The structure will be the most modern Zion has ever seen," J. A. Paxton, president of the savings firm, said. The site will be on the northwest corner of 26th Street and Sheridan Road in Zion. "An unusually rapid rate of growth has made the move to larger and more efficient quarters necessary," Paxton continued. First Savings of Zion, founded in 1947, now has resources of over $5 million. The new building will be suitable for assets up to $20 million.

JUDGES ARE SHOWN as they decided on the winners for the Girl Scout troop 31 of Antioch Christmas table centerpiece contest held at the Antioch Grade school recently. Sequoits Play in Tournament

Antioch Cagers Down Glenbrook And Grant High

Antioch high's Sequoits this week continued in the rapidly dwindling number of undefeated basketball teams' class with a record of 4 Northwestern Suburban conference victories, and 7 for the season without a defeat.

The youths coached by Larry Leon rallied mightily in the second half to down Grant high of Ingleside in a league contest last Friday evening and then rallied in the fourth quarter to take the measure of Glenbrook 60-54 on their own floor Saturday.

Antioch tallied 18 points in the fourth stanza to 10 for Glenbrook to pull that victory out of the fire Saturday night. The scoreboard read 44-42 in favor of Glenbrook when the third stanza ended.

THE VISITORS also led at the first quarter buzzer, this time 15-14 but the Sequoits were on the long end of the tally at the half 34-30.

Coach Leon said the local players had trouble solving the zone defense set up by Glenbrook, it being the first time Antioch had faced such a defense this season.

ATHS out-rebounded its foes 35-28, even against greater height on the part of the Glenbrook team. Jerry Dahlman, Don Pyles and Bob Martin did a particularly good job on rebounds and defense in general.

The Sequoits attempted 60 field goals and made 23 for a .383 percentage. In the free throws department, Antioch tried 22 and made 44 for a .636 percentage.

GLENBROOK'S SPARTANS tried 48 field goals and made 18 of them for .375 and in the charity tosses work they attempted 26 and made 18 for .692.

Dahlman, B. Martin and Pyles were the top scorers for the Sequoits with 24, 14, and 12 points respectively.

The lineups: (field goals, free throws, personal fouls):
ANTIOCH—Pyles 5-2-4; Wolf 2-0-3; B. Martin 4-6-1; Gudgeon 0-0-4; Dahlman 10-4-4; Hunsaker 1-1-0; Herbst 1-1-2. Totals 23-14-18.

GLENBROOK—Stetteland 6-8-4; Lass 1-3-4; Holder 7-1-3; Elmberg 3-6-4; Roach 1-0-2; Petersen 0-0-1. Totals 18-18-18.

INGLESIDE—They didn't take the cover off the hoop for Antioch until the second half against Grant high on the Ingleside school's floor last Friday evening—or so one would guess from the score.

The Sequoits made but 11 out of 40 shots in the first two quarters of the Northwest Suburban conference game and led but 25-21 when the first half buzzer sounded.

But it was a slightly different story in the final two stanzas as the boys coached by Larry Leon sunk 18 out of 30 shots for 60 per cent and pushed in 47 points to give the Sequoits a 72-47 victory.

OVER ALL in the game, Antioch attempted 70 field goals and made 29 for a .414 percentage. In the charity toss department, the Sequoits tried 21 and made 14 for .667.

Grant shot 40 times from the floor and made 15 for .306 and in the free throw phase, attempted 33 and made 17 for .515 per cent.

Jerry Dahlman of Antioch led all the scorers in the game with 27 points made on 12 field goals and three charity tosses. Dick Wolf was the only other Sequoit to score in the double figures with 14 points. Leon said the ATHS squad played a good defensive game throughout and that work probably saved the day for the Sequoits in the first half when they just couldn't seem to "find" the basket.

IN THE FIRST 2 minutes of action in the third quarter after Antioch held a 4 point lead at the half, the Sequoits built up a 15-point margin over Grant. Dahlman "caught fire" in the second half to pepper the basket from all angles.

Varsity lineups (field goals, free throws made and personal fouls):

ANTIOCH—Pyles 4-0-5; Wolf 5-4-2; B. Martin 2-0-5; Gudgeon 2-3-2; Dahlman 12-3-3; Hunsaker 0-1-0; Herbst 2-0-2; E. Martin 1-1-2; Elliott 0-2-0; Prange 1-0-1; Ellichek 0-0-2. Totals 29-14-23.

GRANT—Haerle 0-1-3; Klein 0-1-1; Riley 3-4-2; Hodge 3-2-2; Raffel 1-5-2; Bertolotto 5-2-2; Bishop 1-2-1; Schlunz 0-0-2; Flacks 2-0-2. Totals 15-17-16.

Check Chimney And Smokepipe Of Home Heater

By O. L. Hogsett
A roaring furnace fire can put you out in the cold unless your chimney and heating system are in good condition.

Of the eight main preventable causes of farm fires listed by the Illinois rural safety council, four involved heating systems. Seven out of every ten farm chimneys are faulty, according to a recent survey.

In the first place, using kerosene or gasoline to start a fire causes many fires and injuries.

The safe way is to use crumpled paper and dry kindling. Once the fire is going, faulty smoke pipes and chimneys can do their share to start fires.

Here are some tips on preventing fires from these causes:
Check your chimney, especially in the attic and at the roof line, for loose mortar and bricks. Make sure you have a spark-arresting screen on top of the chimney, especially if your roof isn't fireproof.

Make sure the stove or furnace smokepipe leading into the chimney is in good shape and is well supported. If it passes close to wood or other inflammable materials, wrap it with asbestos.

Installing an automatic draft control will keep the wind from drawing fire up the smokepipe. This control will also save fuel and lower smokepipe temperatures.

Central Takes 7th Straight Cage Win

By John Fisher
Central High Reporter

PADDOCK LAKE, Wis.—Salem Central high school's Falcons continued on the undefeated trail last Friday evening with a tight defensive game in the second half to help in downing Clinton high 68-45 on the Salem School's floor.

The Falcons found the visiting quintet could pepper the basket with some success from outside in the first half with the result Central held but a 38-31 lead at half-time. But Salem Central put on the pressure in the second half to hold Clinton to 7 points each in the third and fourth quarter while the Falcons themselves bucketed 16 counters in each quarter.

Len Krawczyk of Salem Central set a new school mark on rebounds in a single game with 21 and this good rebounding by the Falcons was a big factor in their victory.

Salem was on the long end of a 15-13 score at the first quarter pause, 38-31 at the half and 52-38 at the three-quarter mark.

The home team was perhaps on par with the visitors in height overall but the Falcons had two boys taller than any Clinton cager. Two or three smaller Salem boys even out the "height" problem.

These two taller Central players made much of the difference between victory for the Falcons and for the visitors as they often blocked shots by the visitors and/or picked off rebounds with comparative ease.

It was the fifth Southeastern conference victory for Central in this 1959-60 cage season against no defeats and the seventh for the Falcons overall without a loss.

Krawczyk, Gene Schulz and Ron Yates with 24, 17 and 11 points respectively led the Salem Central scoring attack. Seven of those by Schulz were made from the free throwline.

Next game for the Falcons will be against Badger H. S. of Lake Geneva on Tuesday, Jan. 5, a non-conference affair.

Salem Central goes to Union Grove for a conference engagement the night of Friday, Jan. 8. Norris Foundation will provide the opposition for the next home game for the Falcons, that contest booked for Friday, Jan. 15.

In the preliminary contest last Friday evening, the Clinton B's topped Salem Central's reserves 51-41.

The numbers of players in this shot were obscured due to positions of players when the photo was snapped, it is difficult to tell who is who. The Panther trying the shot is thought to be either Jeffers or Robers, while the white shirted player at the right might be Jeffers, Held, Bush or Dicklin. Wilmot was the loser of this conference clash to the strong visiting team, one picked by a man to win the league championship. (Lake Region News photo)

Can A Baby Make Any Difference

When this paper was organized, an editorial policy was adopted that has made it possible for the editorial staff to express their honest and candid opinions regarding events and happenings in our community.

This week an event has taken place that has caused the editor of this paper to ponder seriously the question, "Can a baby make any difference?" For the first time it may be apparent to our readers that the opinion expressed in our editorial is not in keeping with our established policy.

The incidents that have taken place this week have been centered in the city of Bethlehem. The things that have happened there could easily be dismissed as being nothing more than another ordinary event. However, the words of Micah the prophet of Israel must be called to your attention once again.

He wrote to our people saying, "And thou Bethlehem, land of Judah, art in no wise the least among the princes of Judah: For out of thee shall come forth a governor, which shall be the shepherd of my people Israel."

We have believed for centuries that Micah has alluded to the promised Messiah who would restore to Israel the glory that was hers under the reign of King David.

We also have believed that Micah's prophecy would be fulfilled in and through one of our own people. Did we think that it would have to be an adult person? The incidents at Bethlehem would point to a newborn baby. So it is that we ask, "Can a baby make any difference?"

From the viewpoint of the participants in the events at Bethlehem, the answer to our question is an emphatic YES.

Each person involved in the birth of the baby in Bethlehem would state positively that this baby makes all the difference. The mother, Mary, would relate her visit with the angel who said to her, "You are going to be the mother of a son, and you will call him Jesus."

"He will be great and will be known as the Son of the most high. The Lord God will give him the throne of his forefather, David, and he will be the King over the people of Jacob forever. His reign will never end."

"Your child will be called Holy—the Son of God."

The father, Joseph, would know that this baby will make all the difference because of the dream of warning that advised him to take the baby and his mother into Egypt for Herod meant to kill the child for fear he would take over his kingdom.

The shepherds, who were the first to see the child, can never forget the angel's proclamation: "Fear not, for behold I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be to all people. Unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour who is Christ the Lord."

The angel's announcement was accompanied by a vast host of angels of Heaven praising God, saying "Glory to God in the highest Heaven! Peace upon earth among men of goodwill."

The three wisemen from the east were certain this baby could make all the difference. They followed the star they had seen in the East. It went in front of them as they traveled until at last it shone immediately above the place where the little child lay.

When they saw the child with his mother Mary, they fell on their knees and worshiped him. Then they opened their treasures and presented him with gifts—gold, incense and myrrh.

The baby born in Bethlehem can make all the difference provided we allow our faith to act in such a way so as to give us courage of conscience to accept him as the promised Saviour.

3 Magi Called to Testify In Scientific Inquiry Here

This week the Inn of The Prophets was the scene of an investigation conducted by the Jewish Association For The Study of Scientific Phenomenon.

Three Magi, Persian priests well versed in astrology, were served summons to appear before the group to give their account of the appearance of an unusually large star.

For several weeks reports have circulated about Jerusalem that the three Magi of Persia were eye-witnesses to this event. Some members of the Association had reported seeing the large Star but they discounted it as having any significance.

The decision to investigate the Magi was reached when it was learned, through well informed persons, that the Star was associated with the birth of a child. It was rumored that this child was destined to become the King of Israel.

The transcript of the testimony of the Magi, who were the key witnesses in the investigation, proves conclusively that the Star which had been seen in the East did have astounding significance. The three Magi bore witness to the fact that the sight of the Star filled them with indescribable joy.

They also testified that they were astrologers who had arrived from the East in an attempt to find the child who was born to be the King of the Jews. The strangest thing about the testimony of the Three Magi is the fact that they were convinced that they had been guided by the Star to the place where the child lay.

They had inquired of many people as to the whereabouts of the child born to be King, but no one could furnish them with the needed information. Testimony was also given that involved the name of King Herod. The Magi testified that King Herod had invited them to meet him privately.

He wanted to find out the exact time when the Star appeared for he had discovered, after conversation with Jewish scribes and chief priests, that the birthplace of the child was to be in Bethlehem. The investigation reached its climax when the Three Magi revealed their search was completed when they saw the child with his mother Mary.

The Star they had seen in the East went in front of them as they traveled until at last it shone immediately above the place where the little child lay. Upon seeing the child, they fell on their knees and worshiped him.

Then they opened their treasures and presented him with gifts—gold, incense and myrrh.

From its inception, The Jewish Scientific Association has heard outstanding explanations of several scientific events, but it is safe to say that it will be a long time before they will ever hear such convincing testimony as was presented by the Three Magi from Persia.

No one on the investigating committee could refute the forceful eye-witness testimony of the three witnesses for whom the Star had implications that would never pass away with time.

Severe penalties are made on those who fail to pay their taxes on time—King Herod.

Boy Born in Manger Hailed As Saviour of All People

Census Decried By Emperor For Jewish States

Yesterday, Caesar Augustus, Emperor, published an edict for the enrollment for the whole Roman Empire. According to the Emperor, the time is now favorable. For the first time the empire is enjoying universal peace, and the surveyors sent out by the Senate have completed their work of measuring the various provinces. The census will be a natural complement to the work of surveying.

The census in the Jewish provinces must be taken according to Jewish customs. This means that all must register where their ancestors were born—everyone must be enrolled in his own city. What will this mean to the average Jew?

Jews who live in Nazareth in Galilee, for instance, must go up into Judea, the city of David, which is called Bethlehem. This can be a long, difficult journey for them. The roads in Judea are rough this season of the year, inclement, and means of travel are uncomfortable.

Traffic will be heavy and the Jews will be jostled on the highways by the caravans coming and going for the census. The journey can cause the people much personal discomfort and fatigue.

Many of the Jews are disturbed and angry over this new order of the foreign ruler.

We asked one man how he felt about the trip, and he answered that it would be tough and some of them will have to travel humbly as people of the working class.

"Others will drive," he said, "but we shall walk. Yes, it will be a very trying, even dangerous trip."

Jews going from Galilee up to Judea will travel 80 miles and they like others making the journey will want to arrive early because the town of Bethlehem will be crowded and full of strangers.

Thousands of people are seen at this time streaming toward Bethlehem from all directions.

It is difficult to see how all of them will find a good place to rest. Many undoubtedly will be sleeping in the fields despite the cold of many nights and others may have to stay in stables and such places.

Merchants Attacked By Three Armed Men

Ozias, fur merchant from the city of Antipatras, who was on his way here to register for the census, was attacked and robbed in a wooded area eight miles south of the city Wednesday night and his clothing taken.

After being discovered by a passerby, he was taken to a local physician for treatment.

Ozias told the authorities he was attacked by three armed men, one of them being equipped with a Roman sword. Two were quite short and the third tall and husky.

Local police are investigating the affair.

Caravan Camels Run Loose; People Hurt

Several people were injured on the streets of Bethlehem this week when a caravan of eight or 10 camels with their leaders became excited and ran aimlessly about unhindered.

Soldiers, patrolling the streets on orders of King Herod while so many people were in the city to pay taxes, finally quieted the animals.

The camels were rounded up with some difficulty because many had run outside the city into the open country. The camel drivers were reprimanded for allowing the animals to break loose.

It was not known just what caused the animals to panic and run.

Shepherds Hear Heavenly Host Reporting Birth

Ordinarily, a shepherd's work is very dull—there is little to do after the sheep are bedded down. Yet a shepherd cannot risk sleep because of the vague, gray shadows of wolves lurking around the edges of the flock waiting for one quick, silent slash at a woolly throat.

But last night, about a half mile east of Bethlehem, shepherds report a most unusual and exciting event. They saw and heard angels! According to one of the shepherds, they were watching their flocks in a valley not far from Bethlehem when suddenly a single angel appeared, glorious in the brightness of God.

They were flooded with a heavenly light and they became frightened. Then they heard the angel say "Fear not for behold I bring you good tidings of great joy, that shall be to all the people. For this day is born to you a Saviour, Who is Christ the Lord, in the City of David. And this shall be a sign to you. You shall find the Infant wrapped in swaddling clothes and laid in a manger."

Then appeared, according to the shepherd, a great number of angels intoning a magnificent song of praise—"Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace to men of good will."

The shepherd told how beautiful, how powerful and how glorious was this outburst of heavenly exultation. Never have they heard such melodies, and their hearts throbbed within them.

After some consultation among themselves, they left their flocks and went hurriedly into Bethlehem. They rushed into the stable cave and found Mary and Joseph with the Child lying in the manger.

Travelers See Bright Star In Sky Near City

"It was like a dream," That was the brief description of travelers going to Bethlehem late last night.

Family Reunions Enjoyed by Many

Many family get-togethers were being held in Bethlehem and nearby towns this week as families moved into the city or camped outside while here to register for the census. It was the only time in months that grandparents and their grandchildren, fathers and mothers, aunts and uncles, and cousins could meet and exchange news of their respective families.

News traveled fast and in no time friends of these visitors would drop in to pass the time of day, trade goods and bargain.

Children played about the dusty streets and babies lay sleeping in the shade, where there was any.

Goods as well as family news was traded back and forth. And it was late in the day before family gatherings broke up for the night.

After spending some time congratulating the parents, they went back joyfully to their night's work. This morning they returned to report what they had seen and heard.

Theater Group To Appear Here

A touring theatrical group from Athens will present three performances of "Oedipus Rex" at the Roman playhouse starting Friday with the last performance on Sunday.

The drama, written some 400 years ago, has not been dimmed by the passing years. First produced at the time of its writing, it has continued to be one of the classical favorites.

It is a spine tingling story of a man caught up in the web of fate. Demetrius, well known Greek actor who won praise from Rome's critics during the troupe's recent appearance there, is cast in the leading role as Oedipus. Demetrius is supported by a fine cast of players.

Tickets are on sale at the Inn of Bacchus just across the street from the temple. Performances start daily at 3 p.m.

There were among probably thousands of people who saw the star that shone brightly for several hours and seemed to guide people toward the city of Bethlehem.

Other people described the star as like a giant fire in the heavens that rose suddenly and that disappeared.

Other travelers were afraid and hid their heads. The bright light hurt their eyes and lit up the ground around them brightly.

Those traveling together asked one another what it was and why did it shine so brightly and seem so big.

None apparently knew the right answer and almost everyone asked had his or her own idea.

Some were pretty far fetched but all agreed that the star moved as the people moved, guiding the travelers to the city of Bethlehem and then standing still over the city.

Mary and Joseph Welcome a Son In Local Stable

BETHELEHEM, Judea — Considerable excitement has been aroused in this small village by reports of the birth of a boy child early this morning in the stable to a Mary and Joseph of Nazareth.

Rumors, rapidly circulating throughout the area, accord great significance to the birth, and are picking up with every passing moment strong supernatural overtones.

As this paper goes to press, it is even being whispered about the streets that this child, even though born in a common stable, is the Christ, the long promised Messiah.

Principal source of the rumors concerning the child are a small group of shepherds who arrived in the village early this morning shouting and praising God, and looking for the child, whom they said, was born a Saviour, Christ the Lord.

Later in the morning one of the shepherds told this reporter: "It was a quiet night. We were talking and watching the sheep when a great light appeared in the sky surrounding a huge figure which could have been the angel of the Lord!"

"Naturally, we were frightened nearly out of our wits."

"But the angel said: 'Fear not; for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord. And this shall be a sign unto you:'

"Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger."

"Then, suddenly while we watched, there appeared a multitude of other angels praising God and saying, 'Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men!'

"Then they all disappeared in a flash, and we immediately started for the village to see this thing which had come to pass."

This reporter was unable to locate any other members of the group, and the report to date remains unconfirmed.

Judas Maccabeus, who owns and operates the Wayside Inn, told reporters this morning that nothing of a supernatural nature, to his knowledge, had occurred in his stable, nor had anything disturbed the slumber of his guests.

"The young couple came to the inn yesterday evening looking for a room," he said, "but we didn't have a thing."

"Everyone's in town paying their taxes, you know. My wife and I felt sorry for them and we let them stay in the stable."

I heard about the baby for the first time this morning when the stable boy came in for breakfast. I don't know what the fuss is all about. After all, babies are born every day!"

From all reports, it appeared that the young couple, Mary and Joseph, were in this village, complying with the decree of the Emperor Caesar Augustus, to pay their taxes.

Unable to find a room at any of the inns, they accepted the hospitality of Judas Maccabeus. Both were unavailable for comment late this morning.

The reports, with their strongly supernatural overtones, are almost certain to come to the attention of King Herod, and Cyrenius, Governor of Syria.

It is feared in some quarters that the excitement surrounding the birth of this child may provoke the Zealots to renewed activity and renew their determination to overthrow the power of the Imperial government.

Certainly in this uneasy land, claims of being the King of the Jews and the promised Messiah will not prove welcome to the authorities.

Certainly, however, this new arrival in the stable has totally eclipsed all talk of taxes.

Authorities reported today on unusually large number of people in the city for the tax paying work ordered by King Herod. Crowded streets and market places attest to this fact this morning. Donkeys and camels throng the vacant places—few as they may be.

A BOY BORN THIS MORNING to Mary and Joseph in the stable of the inn in Bethlehem and shown here are some of the people who visited the scene. Shepherds with sheep brought with them are shown here as is a donkey in the background. The baby is shown in the center. A bright star shining in the heavens and angels praising God were said to have guided the shepherds to the lowly stable. Mary and Joseph were unable to find room in the inn itself and were forced to stay in the stable nearby. (Jerusalem News photo)
